

Who are you?

Name: Joyce Shaw

Title in work: Head of Business Operations in the OoCIO.

Title at home: Joy

About me: I'm from Kilkenny but I consider myself to be half dub at this stage. I'm a proud mother of 2. I'm passionate about GAA, local and county, I love to read and spend time with friends chatting over a glass (or 2) of red wine.

What do you do in your job? I work with a team of 22 to deliver business operations to the staff working within the OoCIO. We're "Making the journey smoother"

Why do you do it (personally)? What does it mean to you? I like the personal element in my job-engaging with staff. I find helping the team achieve their goals within the OoCIO is very fulfilling and worthwhile.

What advice do you have to any woman hoping to get involved in health technology?

We should encourage more women and girls to go into the technology industry to bring their emotional intelligence which is a key attribute of leadership.
