

What I do in my job?

I work in the Community Health Division of ICT on the Mental Health and Disability Services Programme on ICT projects for services in community settings. Prior to joining eHealth in 2022 I worked across the health service for over 20 years in various roles.

Motivation:

I love working in healthcare as I get to help people, I particularly love Health Project Management as I like doing something different every day, I also get to meet people from across the country and the health projects I work on enable healthcare professionals to improve health outcomes for people

Advice to women thinking of a career in health service:

I would highly recommend working in the health service and in eHealth, there are many different kinds of jobs and ample training opportunities and people can change careers a number of times during their working lives whilst working for the one organisation. eHealth project management is a great option if you crave variety, if you're looking for an exciting and fast-paced career, eHealth may be right for you.

I'm married to John and live in Ballinacorney, Co Sligo. I love to travel, catch up with family and friends and walk with my dog in my spare time.
